

At Garden City Academy we care about taking time to align the values of families with the values of the school. We realize we aren't for everyone. We want to do as much work on the front end to share expectations, vision, and values to ensure a good fit for all who apply.

9 AFFIRMATIONS

- 1) Garden City Academy is for those who view education as a privilege, not a right, and will treat their time here as such. We reject entitlement attitudes.
- 2) Garden City Academy is for parents who want to be engaged in the educational process and for the student who desires to become a life-long learner.
- 3) Garden City Academy is for parents who want to raise free and independent thinkers and students who are willing to put in the work to get there.
- 4) Garden City Academy is for families who believe there are absolute truths in the world that work themselves out in math, gender, and laws of physics.
- 5) Garden City Academy is for students who want to be challenged, pushed, and prepared for a lifetime of fruitful learning, meaningful vocation, and societal contribution.
- 6) Garden City Academy is for families who want a community that supports and affirms their moral values (not one that makes open war on them).
- 7) Garden City Academy is for families who want an education that equips students with logical reasoning skills (not one that indoctrinates them with ideas to thoughtlessly embrace).
- 8) Garden City Academy is for parents who believe the family, not the state, is the jurisdiction given primary responsibility by God to educate children. Schools can't make up for what parents drop.
- 9) Garden City Academy is for families willing to make sacrifices in order to ensure their children are best equipped to step into their holy calling.
